PREFACE.

AT THE Annual Meeting of the Association in 1894, Dr. Gill called attention to the fact that it was twenty-five years since the first class graduated from the High School, and moved that the Association print a memorial. This was to contain a list of the Alumni with the positions they now occupy; in other words, it was to show what our Alma Mater has accomplished. This found universal favor. A committee was appointed and an appropriation made to carry out this work.

Circulars were sent out at three different times, containing questions to be answered. Owing, however, to tardiness in replying, the publication has been delayed until the present time and the classes of '95 and '96 have been included. In many cases no reply was elicited, and the committee have filled in the blanks as best they could.

An attractive feature of the work is the addition of the photographs and brief biographies of the teachers, so far as they could be obtained.

The names of graduates are printed in capitals. Those of college graduates are indicated by their titles. The number after the name denotes the number of years' attendance at the school, followed later by the home and business address.

FOUNDATION OF SCHOOL.

FOR quite a number of years efforts had been made to rouse the town to appreciate the necessity of a High School, the most notable of which were the annual reports written by Samuel B. Noyes when superintendent of schools. Mr. Ezekiel Capen, J. Mason Everett, D. T. V. Huntoon, and other prominent citizens, also did all that was in their power to arouse public sentiment in this direction, but with no definite results.

In September, 1865, when Mr. H. B. Miner took charge of the Grammar School at South Canton (now the Crane Grammar), which was by far the largest in town, it was decided to introduce various advanced studies, and make it practically a High School, so that the parents might be brought to realize the benefit of such a course of study. This plan proved so successful, that at a Town Meeting held in the spring of 1866, a speech was made by Hon. Charles Endicott, which aided so materially in convincing the people of the necessity that, almost unanimously, it was voted to establish the Canton High School. For some months longer the school remained at South Canton, but in April, 1869, the present building was opened for its use, and for the first time there were four classes in the school.

HENRY B. MINER

1866-1869

HENRY B. MINER, A. B., was born in Dorchester, September 17, 1843. His father was Rev. Bradley Miner. His mother was Louisa Tucker, a native of Canton. After graduating at Brown University in 1864, he commenced teaching in Canton, where he remained as principal of the High School till July, 1869, when he became principal of the Tileston School in Boston. Since 1875 he has been at the head of the Edward Everett School of Boston.

JOHN FRANK CASEY

1869-1872

JOHN FRANK CASEY, A. M., was born in Bedford, Mass., March 16, 1845. He graduated from Boston Latin School in 1864, and from Harvard College in 1868. Master of Weston, Mass., High School, 1868-69, Canton High, 1869-72. Early in the autumn of 1872 he was appointed as a master in the English High School, Boston, where he has remained until the present time.

FRANK M. WILKINS

1873-1875

FRANK M. WILKINS, A. B., was born at Peabody, Mass., February 16, 1849, and was a son of James W. and Julia A. Wilkins. He was graduated from Amherst College in 1872, and soon after became master of the High School at Canton, where he remained two years. In 1874 he was admitted to the practise of law at the Massachusetts bar, and was located at Brockton, Mass. In 1877 physicians advised his going to Texas, on account of lung trouble. He was admitted to the Texas bar in 1878, but even in that warm climate could not endure indoor confinement. He then interested himself in the stock business, and, with his brothers, was doing an extensive business at their ranch in Val Verde and Crockett counties at the time of his untimely death,* December 18, 1890.

* Mr. Wilkins was murdered by Mexican cowboys.

H. W. T.

CLARENCE HEREFORD BERRY, A. B.

1875-1881

MR. BERRY was born at Gloucester, December 26, 1849. Four years later his parents removed to North Andover, where his father was a prominent citizen. He was a faithful and able teacher and directed his son's course into the same calling, wherein he also was to display remarkable powers.

From his father's private school he went to the Pemchard Free School, and thence, by the advice of his principal, entered Harvard College. Here he maintained a high rank and graduated in 1871. Leaving college he entered at once upon his life's work—teaching—fulfilling a desire cherished from his childhood. His first four years of teaching were spent in the High Schools of Castine, Ellsworth and Cherryfield, Maine. In order to pursue his favorite study—Chemistry—to better advantage, he returned to Massachusetts and became principal of our High School, a position he occupied for six years, until his death, June 22, 1881. He was of a retiring disposition and won regard not by any self-assertion, but by his moral worth, scholarly attainments, and steady devotion to duty.

1881-1889

FREDERIC L. OWEN, Jr., A.B., was born at Hanover, N. H., and fitted for college at Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H.; entered Dartmouth College in 1873, and graduated in 1877. After graduation he taught at Dennis (on Cape Cod), Mass., until the winter of 1878, when he went to Canton as principal of the Crane School. In the spring of 1881 he went to Franklin Falls, N. H., to take charge of the High School in that town, but a vacancy occurring in the Canton High School at the time, occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Berry, he was immediately called to that position.

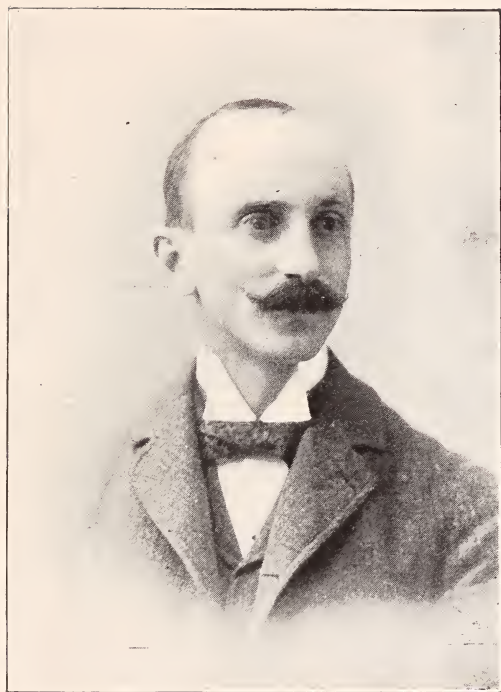

He was principal of the High School for nearly nine years, until June, 1889. Since that time he has been sub-master in the Sherwin School, Boston, where he is at the present time.

WILLIAM C. HOBBS, A. B.

1889-1890

The subject of this sketch was born in Wilton, Maine, July 11, 1859, and began teaching his first school November 29, 1875, in North Jay, Maine. He fitted for Bates College in Wilton Academy and graduated in the class of 1881. Afterwards he pursued a year of post-graduate study at Harvard University, in 1884 and 1885. He was principal of Litchfield Academy, Maine, in 1882, and in the fall of 1882 began teaching in Maplewood Institute, Pittsfield, Mass., remaining there two years. He then taught in Lewiston High School, Maine, during the fall term of 1885, and beginning in January, 1886, was principal of Attleboro High School three years and two terms, and thereupon was principal of Canton High School one year, beginning September, 1889. He entered the classical department of the Providence High School in the fall of 1890, and after a half-year's service, was promoted to the position of first assistant in the English and scientific department of the same school. Was in Providence two years. In June, 1892, he accepted appointment of superintendent of schools in North Attleboro, where he now is.

EDWARD L. (DANA) UNDERWOOD, A. B.

1891-1893

Born July 23, 1858, in Charlestown, Mass. (now Boston). After leaving the Grammar School and Boston Latin School, he entered Harvard College, graduating in 1882. Began teaching in 1884 at Rockport, Mass. From 1885-90 at Powers Institute, Bernardston, Mass.; 1890-92, Canton High School; since 1892 at John P. Hopkinson's Private Classical School, Chestnut street, Boston, Mass. Resides in Canton.

ELMER H. BRACKETT, A. B.

1892-1897

ELMER H. BRACKETT was born at Acton, Maine, 1860. Prepared for college at the Rochester, N. H., High School; then entered Bates College, graduating in the class of 1885. Was principal of the High School at Lisbon, Maine, 1885-1887; at Groveland and Merrimac, 1887-1890; at Walpole, 1890-1892; at Canton, 1892 to the present time.

MRS. ABBY JANE (ELLIS) SNOW

1869-1870

ABBY JANE (ELLIS) SNOW, daughter of William and Jane (Endicott) Ellis, was born in Canton, April 1, 1841. She received her earlier education in the public schools of Canton, and graduated from the Bridgewater Normal School in 1858. She taught school in Norton, Norwood and Canton. In 1865 she married George Henry Snow. In 1869 she accepted the position of assistant teacher in the High School, where she remained for two terms, afterwards teaching Intermediate School in District No. 7. Mrs. Snow died in Canton, Mass., November 9, 1882. At the time of her death she was librarian of the Canton Public Library.

MISS M. L. PUTNAM .

1870-1871

MISS LYDIA J. PEARCE

1871-1872

State House, Boston, Mass.

MARY (PRESCOTT) SMITH

1872-1873 and 1876-1881

MARY L. PRESCOTT was born March 24th, 1848, in the town of Randolph, Mass. She was educated in the public schools of that town, and at the age of seventeen entered the Bridgewater Normal School, graduating January 28th, 1868. The following spring she began teaching in an Intermediate School in the town of Holbrook, remaining through the spring and fall terms. In the spring of 1869 she took a school in the Primary grade in Randolph, being transferred after a short period to one of the Intermediate Schools in the "Prescott" school building. In 1871 she returned to Bridgewater to fit for higher grades of school work, remaining there one year. In September, 1872, she began teaching in the Canton High School as assistant. The second year opened favorably, but sudden sickness in the family called Miss Prescott home. Her position was left open for the space of one year, a substitute, Miss Susie Felton, having been provided. The sickness continuing, she was not able to return, and the vacancy was filled by Miss Chace. Miss Chace resigning in 1876, Miss Prescott again took the position of assistant in the school, remaining for five years, being associated during this time with C. H. Berry and F. L. Owen as principals. She resigned in June, 1881. In July, 1882, she married Adoniram Smith of Randolph, Mass., where she now resides.

1873-1874

SUSAN WILLARD FELTON was born in Peabody, Mass., February 15, 1855. She was educated in that town, graduating from the Peabody High School in 1872. She then completed her education at Mount Holyoke Seminary. She taught in Canton as assistant for the year 1873-74, afterwards teaching in Marlboro, Mass. In January, 1881, she was married to Walter W. Howe, of Worcester, Mass. She died in Marlboro, Mass., November 20, 1889.

E. R. S.

ANNIE E. CHACE

1874-1876

ANNIE E. CHACE graduated from the Taunton High School in 1864. She taught first in a Primary School in Taunton, being principal for five years. She then took an assistant's position in a Grammar School in Taunton. The next year, 1869-70, she took the position of first assistant at the Wolfeboro Institute, a private school in New Hampshire. Owing to ill health she did little teaching the following three years.

In 1873 she was assistant in the Franklin, Mass., High School, and from 1874 to 1876 assistant in the Canton High School. In 1876 she held the same position in the Chelsea High School. In the fall of 1877 she was for a short time a teacher in the Girls' High School, Boston, but was soon transferred to the Boston Normal School as teacher of mathematics, which position she held until the time of her death, April 30, 1893. Although not a college graduate, Miss Chace was an earnest student, well educated, and a thoroughly trained teacher, giving a good example by her life and work of what woman as a teacher should be. J. C.

ELIZA (NOYES) SUMNER

1881-1891

ELIZA ROSITA NOYES was born in Canton, and received all the benefit of its public schools, graduating from the High School in June, 1873. She immediately entered the Boston Normal School and graduated the following year. Wishing to continue her studies, she entered the Girls' High School in the middle class, and graduated from it in 1876. The next two years were spent in further education from private teachers. In 1881 she became assistant in the Canton High School, remaining in that position until 1891, when she resigned, and was married to Fred W. Sumner of Canton, where she has since continued to reside.

MATILDA (WILDER) BROOKS

1891-1895

MATILDA SEWELL WILDER, A. B., was born at Chelsea, Mass., December 11, 1868. From the Chelsea High School she entered Smith College as a classical student, and was graduated in June, 1891. The following September she became assistant in the High School of Canton. After four years of teaching she left Canton to be married to Mr. Maro Spalding Brooks, July 2, 1895. She is now living at Dobb's Ferry on the Hudson, New York, where she is keeping house and also teaching German in Westminster School, a boarding school for boys, in which her husband has been for four years a teacher.

HELEN R. WILLIAMS, A. B.

1895-1897

HELEN R. WILLIAMS was born in Canton, August 6, 1871. She went to the primary and secondary schools of Canton and finished one year's work in the High School, leaving in the second year to go to the Berkeley School, Boston. Here she was prepared for college. She was graduated from Smith College in 1892, classical course. In 1895 she became assistant in the Canton High School.

LOUISE M. ENDICOTT, A. B.

LOUISE MARION ENDICOTT was born in Canton, June 20, 1873. She received her grammar school education in one of the Boston Public Schools. From there she went to Chauncy Hall School, where she prepared for college. She was graduated from Radcliffe College in 1896. In the following fall she became an assistant in the Canton High School.
